Dog Abandonment:

According to the statutory abandonment provisions (Sections 1834.5 and 1834.6 of the Civil Code), if an animal is not picked up within 14 days after it was due to be picked up, the animal is considered to be abandoned. Once the animal is determined to be abandoned, the boarding facility must keep the animal an additional 10 days while attempting to find it a new owner. Alternatively, the boarding facility may contact municipal animal authorities, rescue organizations or private shelters and attempt to place the animal(s) that way. The law allows for municipal shelters to refuse to accept the animal under these circumstances. If the initial 14 days and additional 10 days have passed (for a total of 24 days), and the legal owner has not retrieved the animal or the boarding facility has been unable to locate a new home for the animal, the boarding facility may humanely euthanize the animal in compliance with the notice requirements and formalities of these sections of the Civil Code. You may be fined up to $1000 and/or 6 months in jail for the crime of animal abandonment.
